GARDEN & WILDLIFE SEMINAR STAGE

Saturday, August 29

11:00pm Fall Vegetable Gardening: Growing Success in the Desert

Belinda Diaz, El Paso County Master Gardener

Join Master Gardener Belinda Diaz, a vegetable gardening specialist, as she shares expert tips for a successful fall garden in the desert Southwest. Learn how to prepare your soil, conserve water, and time your planting for our unique climate. Whether you're planting your first vegetable garden or looking to improve your harvest, you'll gain practical techniques to help your garden thrive throughout the season.

1:00pm Kids' Gardening Adventure: Growing Curious Minds

Youth Outreach Committee, El Paso County Master Gardeners

Bring the whole family to Story Time with the Master Gardeners! Learn about pollination, planting seeds, and growing your own garden. Kids of all ages will get excited about getting their hands dirty and growing something of their own. It's a fun and engaging way to inspire young gardeners and their families to discover the joys of gardening together.

3:00pm Pruning Trees in the Fall and Winter

Dannye Hammond, El Paso County Master Gardener

Join Master Gardener Dannye Hammond, a tree specialist, as he talks about growing trees in the desert. He will discuss the why, when, and how to prune trees in our desert climate. An expert on all things trees, Dannye welcomes your questions.

Sunday, August 30

12:00pm Showstoppers for Fall

Robin Scofield, El Paso County Master Gardener

Robin Scofield, a Master Gardener with a long history of managing the demonstration garden at Ascarate Park, will present a program on fall gardening in the desert. The presentation will focus on preparing gardens for the fall season, with special emphasis on plants that thrive in our desert climate and provide outstanding performance and beauty.

2:00pm Insects in the Garden: Good Guys and Bad Guys

Blanche Herrera, El Paso County Master Gardener

Blanche Herrera, an El Paso County Master Gardener and insect specialist, will help you identify the insects you're seeing in your garden and determine whether they are truly pests. Learn how to distinguish beneficial insects from those that cause damage and discover the best practices for creating a healthy, balanced garden that welcomes pollinators and a diverse community of beneficial bugs.

EPCC CULINARY COOKING CLASSES

Sweet Success: Cooking with Raw Honey & Protecting Pollinators

Chef Edgar Morales

Discover the delicious benefits of raw honey in this engaging live cooking demonstration featuring the EPCC Culinary Club. Learn the differences between raw honey and store-bought honey, how honey can elevate everyday recipes, and why protecting pollinators—especially honeybees—is essential for every gardener.

You'll also get an inside look at EPCC's beekeeping initiative and discover simple ways to support healthy bee populations at home. This educational and flavorful presentation is a must-see for food lovers, gardeners, and anyone passionate about sustainability.

Chef Edgar Morales

Chef Edgar Morales has served as adjunct faculty in EPCC's Culinary Arts & Related Sciences department since 2014. He brings twenty years of restaurant industry experience and passion for his craft to the students he teaches.

Edgar is an EPCC alumnus who holds two Associates of Applied Sciences degrees in Culinary Arts and Restaurant Management. He holds certifications both as a Novice Beekeeper through PerfectBee and aquaponics through Alabama A&M University. He also tends the Green Advantage greenhouse, garden and apiary located at the ASC campus.

In his downtime, Edgar enjoys playing friendly but competitive games with his husband Sergeant Olvin Foot and spoiling their three fur-babies: Bear, Rocco and Cali. You may also find him rooting around in his back garden tending to the various vegetables he's sowed, collecting donations for the Fort Bliss Junior Enlisted Family Center, or giving his time/expertise to the Soldier Recovery Unit.

Chef Christina Navarro, EPCC

Chef Cristina Navarro, an Instructor at El Paso Community College and a graduate of the Culinary Arts and Pastry Arts Programs at EPCC, demonstrates her dedication to her profession by preserving foods and their natural qualities. Food preservation is not a new concept, but advance in technology have enabled us to apply the principles of traditional preservation to current needs, while retaining most of the nutritional content and vibrant colors of these foods.

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS

MEET 'PAYDIRT PETE' SATURDAY 12:00pm - 2:00pm

Meet UTEP basketball mascot 'Paydirt Pete'! The name Paydirt Pete originated from a 1974 contest to give a name to the mascot. It was selected from more than 500 entries. The first Paydirt Pete mascot started as a lovable "little ol' Miner" in 1980. Since, Paydirt Pete has undergone several incarnations to become the tougher, meaner-looking mascot of today.

MEET 'SPIKE' THE RHINO SUNDAY 12:00pm - 2:00pm

In El Paso, "Spike" is the mascot of the El Paso Rhinos, a sports team, making Spike the associated mascot with the city when referring to this name.
